Take Time to be Thankful & Have a Happy Thanksgiving

Let's each of us take a little time out of our lives and reflect. Reflect upon the past, give thanks for what we have today, much of which no other country in the world can enjoy, and at the same time take time to reflect upon the future.

November is an excellent month for us to reflect upon all of these things.

Tuesday, November 4th is Election Day. Make that a time for reflection, before and while you are in the voting booth. Enjoy and use that liberty which many have given their all, for you enjoy and exercise. Do not waste your vote, by not voting. Remember, the only people who can complain about how our leaders are doing, are those who either voted for or against them being elected into power, to set our laws and monitor our system. If you do not vote then you have no right to speak against what is happening!

Tuesday, November 11th is Veterans Day. The day set aside for us to commemorate and honor all those who have served or are currently serving, us and our country. Fly your flag. Wear a sign, even if it is handmade, that says: "Veterans – I thank you." Let's not forget them throughout the year, but let us make it a special day to remember and to give them our special thanks.

Thursday, November 27th is Thanksgiving Day. Most of us just take that day for granted with a day of family and friends getting together to enjoy some Turkey and Pumpkin Pie. Let us reflect, however, on what this day really is. All Americans working together to make this country into what it has grown into. The American Indian who preserved this land and assisted the earliest settlers in their survival. Those settlers who struggled to survive in this new, wild and strange land. Those immigrants who worked so diligently to explore those wilds, cleared forests, worked in the fields, the mines and on the railroads. Fear and danger was with them continuously, but so was the hope for a better future for themselves and their families. We should not forget to give them thanks for that better future which they have given to each of us and our families. Their work and lives were hard and dangerous so that our lives could be more free of that danger and worry.

Every day is a new day in our lives. A day of expectation and a day for reflection for our country, our work, our friends, family and for ourselves. Reflect on what you have done to make this country, state, neighborhood, family better, you work more enjoyable and rewarding, your family more happy and contented and yourself on what you have and can do to make yourself into a better person, a living cornerstone, for the benefit of all.

Let's give thanks, for whom we are, for what we have done, for what others have done for us and what we are going to do in the future.

Many years ago our forefathers joined together with their neighbors, the Native American, to celebrate their survival, that harvest, the friendships that they had kindled and the stores that were set aside so that they could all survive the upcoming winter.

It was a festival of wealth, survival and mutual protection. That should all be remembered at this time of the year that we need to celebrate our wealth, survival and protection. It is the time of the year that we need to remember all who have given so much, and are giving so much at this time, that we can all joint together with family and fiends to continue this feast of Thanksgiving.

Masons have always emulated the example of the Native American and been the first to step forward to assist the less fortunate. Masons have always had the spirit of Thanksgiving in their hearts and actions. They have always been ready to step forward, as did the Native Americans, to assist the less fortunate and those in need in their time of suffering. The show them the way, if they were willing to accept the charity and the lessons presented.

At this time of Thanksgiving besides giving thanks for what we have, how about stepping out and assisting those less fortunate. Serve dinner at the local shelter, church or community center. Let them know that it is the Masons that are there to help them. Wear you Masonic Shirt, Hat, Apron, etc.

Let us be like those Native Americans who assisted our forefather by displaying acts of kindness and understanding to those less fortunate and unable to do for themselves, without fee or the reward of service.

Happy Thanksgiving. Once you begin to give of yourself at this time of the year, you will begin to feel so good about yourself that you will continue to give and display your Thanksgiving Spirit throughout the coming years, by your words deeds and actions.

A SPECIAL THANKSGIVING WISH

*May all of the blessings of this special season
be yours
while Thanksgiving

*And may all of the joys
of this beautiful land
be your in abundance
all year.*

Happy Thanksgiving

“GREETINGS FROM THE GRAND EAST”

Greetings Companions,

It's been a very busy month since our last issue. The last 9 days of September, there was something happening almost every day; my own chapter's Stated Convocation on the 22nd, my birthday on the 24th, (not a masonic event but still of some importance to me), a trip to Buffalo, NY for the Joint General Grand Chapter & General Grand Council Triennial from the 25th to the 30th. Starting in October, there was the reception for the DeMolay State Master Councilor, Josh Lampar on the 4th, then on the 5th I attended a Long Range Planning Committee meeting, next from October 7-9 was a visit to Independence OH to attend the Ohio Grand Chapter Session. With Lady Kristi and me in Ohio were the Grand King, REC Donald Galway & Lady Sherry, the Grand Captain of the Host, REC Rich Hitch, and Past Grand High Priest, MEC Jerry Vann. On the way home from Ohio I paid a call on Lansing Commandery #23 to let the members know that Capitol Chapter #9 is in a very precarious position and to see if the Sir Knights who are also members of the chapter might have some suggestions to try to save the chapter from extinction or consolidation (they didn't). This was followed up by the HRAKTP and KYCH on Saturday, Oct. 11. Then there was the reception honoring the presiding officers of the Grand Chapter, Grand Council, and Grand Commandery on the 12th. On the 13th Lady Kristi and I met Ann Fairchild in St. Ignace and Ann & Kristi left to take Ann to her winter home in Florida while I continued to Marquette to visit Marquette Chapter #43 that evening. I stayed in the area overnight and visited Negaunee Chapter #108 on the 14th. Then it was home for a couple of days and a return to Marquette to attend the Valley of Marquette Scottish Rite Reunion on the 18th. Coming up for the week of the 20th, there is Sunrise Chapter #74 in Alpena on Monday, a return to Lansing and Capitol Chapter #9 on Tuesday, Dennis Brawn York Rite College #65 in Grayling on Wednesday, on Thursday, Sunrise Council #418 AMD in West Branch, then on Friday and Saturday, the Valley of Bay City Scottish Rite Reunion.

The General Grand Chapter and General Grand Council Triennial was a memorable experience, not just for the sessions but for the special events as well. On Friday there was a tour to the American side of Niagara Falls and Saturday a tour was offered of historical sites around Buffalo. On Friday evening Columbian Council #1, the Mother Council of Cryptic Masonry, conferred the Super Excellent Master Degree following a buffet dinner. On Saturday evening Most Excellent Edmund D. Harrison, General Grand High Priest, sat in the East for the conferral of the Royal Arch Degree in Ancient Form with a table lodge between sections of the degree. On Sunday morning, many of us walked about a quarter of mile from the host hotel to the Erie Canal where MEC Harrison and other dignitaries re-enacted a scene from the dedication of the opening of the canal. At the original dedication in 1825, the then General Grand High Priest as well as New York state governor, Most Excellent Dewitt Clinton, poured a keg of water from Lake Erie into New York Harbor, symbolizing “The Wedding of the Waters” joining the Atlantic Ocean with the Great Lakes. For the re-enactment, water from New York Harbor was poured into the Erie Canal near the spot where the canal ends at Lake Erie, and I believe they used the original keg.

The Erie Canal was of great importance to the Upper Great Lakes and mid-west because it provided an easier path than overland for settlers to travel west and for crops, lumber, and other goods to travel to the East Coast and overseas. Cities like Chicago, Detroit, and Buffalo became hubs for commerce. The Erie Canal played as big a role in the development of the Upper Great Lakes during the first half of the 19th century as the transcontinental railroad did in the west during the second half.

The General Grand Chapter was opened on Sunday afternoon with legislation and the election of officers being put off until Monday. On Monday a proposal was approved to increase General Grand Chapter per-capita from $1.00/member in North America to $2.00/member beginning in 2016 and another increase to $3.00/member in 2018, with other jurisdictions outside North America being more, much more. Another proposal to end the pre-paid life member program was postponed until the next Triennial Session. The measure was not proposed in due time and would have required a unanimous vote to pass, which it not have.

The election of officers followed the conclusion of other business. Most Excellent Louis E. Bartrand of Oak Harbor, WA was elected to the office of General Grand High Priest, MEC James H. Hodge of Richmond, IN (and a plural member of North Branch Chapter #138) was elected to the office of General Grand King, and MEC Steven G. Tiner of North Little Rock AR was elected to the office of General Grand Scribe. Our own MEC Larry Inscho PGHP was as appointed as Deputy for the East Central Region and also was installed as General Grand Royal Arch Captain. MEC David Dossette PGHP was appointed as General Grand Chapter Ambassador to Michigan. A complete list of all General Grand Chapter officers is available at the General Grand Chapter website at www.ramint.org.

The Grand Council of Royal & Select Masons of Michigan opened for the General Grand Council Assembly on Tuesday. They were a little shorthanded so a few of us from the Grand Chapter were pressed into service. The Grand Council companions did a fine job with the opening, especially David Boring, the Most Illustrious Grand Master, and they were very forgiving of any errors we Grand Chapter guys may have made. I will leave further discussion of the General Grand Council to MIC Boring with the exception of mentioning the wonderful memorial service they did for George Sellars with a special acknowledgement noting the passing of Ken Chandler. It was absolutely beautiful.

In conclusion, I would like to thank everyone who attended our Joint York Rite Presiding Officers' Reception in Bay City. Kristi and I are grateful for the opportunity to get together with some of the friends we have made over the past several years, have a good time with a nice dinner, have a few stories told about us, true or not, and good company. I realize we may have made a few breaches of protocol and not introduced a few people who should have been introduced, and did not get the chance to personally greet everyone, but please forgive us. We only get to do this once, so we don't get a lot of practice.

Greetings Companions,

The end of October of 2014 and I am sitting, writing this article wondering where this year has gone.

Reflecting back it seems like; just yesterday I was standing being installed as the Grand King. I woke up this morning thinking Halloween is a week away and Thanksgiving is a month away. For the ladies that may read this article as of this writing there are 66 days 15 hours and 21 minutes till Christmas. I should have known there is an App for that.

The last seven weeks have been somewhat hectic for Lady Sherry and myself. We managed to squeeze in the Kentucky Session, the Grand Marshalls reception, Triennial in Buffalo, NY, The DeMolay SMC's reception, the Ohio Grand Session and the York Rite Reception Dinner, and before the month is over I will have visited Delta Chapter in Kingsford, MI.

The Tri- Annual of General Grand Chapter and General Grand Council was an activity filled week for the attendee's. The session committee had a well planned list of activities to suit any taste. My personnel favorites were the conferral of the Super Excellent Master Degree by Columbian Council No.1 The Mother Council of Cryptic Masonry. The next night the General Grand High Priest conferred the Holy Royal Arch Degree and Table Chapter. This was great fun and the degree was superb. The next morning we paraded about four blocks to Lake Erie for the wedding of the waters, Where Most Excellent DeWitt Clinton General Grand High Priest and New York's Governor of 1825 poured a barrel of water from Lake Erie into the Atlantic Ocean opening the Erie Canal. One of the nicest things that I have seen in many of years was the tribute and memorial to George C. Sellars. The General Grand Council Chaplin created this memorial service and I must say I will not forget it.

Somehow between General Grand and the Ohio Grand Session, we managed to squeeze in a Forward Planning Meeting for Michigan's Grand Chapter, which is to discuss the direction OUR Grand Chapter would like to go and what programs need to be implemented to get us there. The Grand officers meet every six to eight weeks to discuss what is working what needs to be changed, or what just doesn't seem to be working at all. Let me, at this time, say that if any of the membership has an idea that they may think will help Grand Chapter or the membership in general feel free to drop me a note, e-mail, or a phone call and I will pass it along as an agenda item for our meeting and discuss it. I will also make sure that you receive feedback. One of the things I wish to emphasize is that this Grand Chapter belongs to the membership, if there is anything that needs to be looked at, or changed feel free to contact any of the Grand Officers or Past Grand Officers and we will investigate the possibility of changing, improving.

I would be remiss if I did not mention that the time is fast approaching for submitting candidates for the Meritorious Service Award and General Grand Bronze Award. Every chapter in the state has members that are deserving of these awards; all it takes is a little work on the committee's part to submit the paper work.

Coming events, the Education Seminar will be in January the date will be announced next month. The Caro George Washington Celebration will be February 14, 2015. This has been a continuous event for over 100 years and tickets go fast. There will be an announcement in the Triple Tau with contact information next month also.

In Service to the Craft
Don

LET US BE THANKFUL!

THANKFULNESS is one of our greatest human prerogatives. It is the great rounder and deepener of our lives...

TO LIVE with gratitude for life and consciousness and the opportunity both offer us to judge the past, realize the present and estimate the future, is to make us significant to ourselves and others.

TO WORK with gratitude for our employment, the sustenance it affords us and our loved ones, and the gateway it opens to further experience and advancement, is to free ourselves from the slavery that labor might otherwise impose on us.

TO EMPLOY the services of others, with gratitude for their partnership in our endeavor and the guarantee of mutual reward their cooperation establishes, is to augment the authority of our leadership and deepen the significance of our own employment.

TO KNOW the gratitude is, in itself, a designer of new and brighter goals and an energizer of effort in pursuing them, is to find the Philosopher's Stone within our own hearts.

TO HAVE GOD as the ultimate and most intimate recipient of our thanksgiving tis to justify His faith in us as His earthly image.

Chapter Membership Retention and Restoration

1. Chapter Fellowship
 - a. Have a dinner or dessert before or after your meetings
 - b. Monthly breakfast or dinner (also a great fundraiser)
 - c. Visit other Chapters or Blue lodges (it's where the new members are)
 - d. Participate in community events, such as, fundraisers, volunteer activities, etc.
2. Capitulary Education
 - a. Every Chapter should have an Education Officer. The Education Officer should share any new and/or useful information at each stated meeting as part of the proceedings.
 - b. Hold Degree practice at least once a month
 - c. Make sure each officer has an Officer's manual to reference what is expected for the position he holds.
 - d. Take time to study the degrees individually to understand and learn the meanings behind that degree. The better one understands the degree, the better mentor one will be for new members.
3. Membership
 - a. Establish a Membership committee. The committee should consist of 4-5 members.
 - b. Establish a relationship with a Blue lodge. Become "that person" Blue lodge members go to for information.
 - c. Create social networking accounts, such as, Face Book, Twitter, Website, etc. Make sure to use the sites and keep content current.
 - d. Get Active. Chapters will NOT keep or gain members if all we do is a business meeting. New members want some kind of purpose of membership.
 - e. Host a dinner that includes nonmembers, their ladies, family and friends (see also fellowship)
4. Communication
 - a. Know your audience
 - b. Use email, newsletters, regular mailings, and phone calls for Chapter events.
 - c. Use Face Book, Twitter, etc. Use a Website. Keep it simple and current.
 - d. Texting is popular among younger members.
 - e. Include other Chapters and lodges in your area of your events. It's a way to build relationships and network.
5. Future Planning
 - a. Chapters should have a Planning committee. Include officers of the moving line, excluding the HP.
 - b. If you have no plan, then you are planning to fail.
 - c. The plan should consist of one year to five year goals.
 - d. Track your goals and modify your plan as needed.

First President?

Who was the first President of the "United States"? Was John Hancock president before or after Washington? (answer at end)
I'm sure that George Washington was your best guess. After all, no one else comes to mind.

But think back to your history books. The United States declared its independence in 1776, yet Washington did not take office until April 30, 1789.

So who was running the country during these initial years of this young country? It was the first eight U. S. presidents. In fact, the first President of the United States was one JOHN HANSON. I can hear you now John who? John Hanson, the first President of the United States.

Don't go checking the encyclopedia for this guy's name - he is one of those great men that are lost to history. If you're extremely lucky, you may actually find a brief mention of his name.

The new country was actually formed on March 1, 1781 with the adoption of The Articles of Confederation. This document was actually proposed on June 11, 1776, but not agreed upon by Congress until November 15, 1777. Maryland refused to sign this document until Virginia and New York ceded their western lands. Maryland was afraid that these states would gain too much power in the new government from such large amounts of land.

Once the signing took place in 1781, a President was needed to run the country. John Hanson was chosen unanimously by Congress (which included George Washington). In fact, all the other potential candidates refused to run against him, as he was a major player in the revolution and an extremely influential member of Congress.

As the first President, Hanson had quite the shoes to fill. No one had ever been President and the role was poorly defined. His actions in office would set precedent for all future Presidents.

He took office just as the Revolutionary War ended. Almost immediately, the troops demanded to be paid as would be expected after any long war, there were no funds to meet the salaries. As a result, the soldiers threatened to overthrow the new government and put Washington on the throne as a monarch.

All the members of Congress ran for their lives, leaving Hanson as the only guy left running the government. He somehow managed to calm the troops down and hold the country together. If he had failed, the government would have fallen almost immediately and everyone would have been bowing to King Washington.

Hanson, as President, ordered all foreign troops off American soil, as well as the removal of all foreign flags. This was quite the feat, considering the fact that so many European countries had a stake in the United States since the days following Columbus.

Hanson established the Great Seal of the United States, which all Presidents have since been required to use on all official documents. President Hanson also established the first Treasury Department, the first War Department, and the first Foreign Affairs Department. Lastly, he declared that the fourth Thursday of every November was to be Thanksgiving Day, which is still true today.

The Articles of Confederation only allowed a President to serve a one year term during any three year period, so Hanson actually accomplished quite a bit in such little time.

Seven other presidents were elected after him:

1. Elias Boudinot (1782-83)
 2. Thomas Mifflin (1783-84)
 3. Richard Henry Lee (1784-85)
 4. John Hancock (1785-86)
 5. Nathan Gorman (1786-87)
 6. Arthur St. Clair (1787-88)
 7. Cyrus Griffin (1788-89)
- All prior to Washington taking office in '89.

So what happened? Why don't we hear about the first eight presidents?

It's quite simple - The Articles of Confederation didn't work well. The individual states had too much power and nothing could be agreed upon. A new doctrine needed to be written - something we know as the Constitution.

And that leads us to the end of our story.

George Washington was definitely not the first President of the United States. He was the first President of the United States under the Constitution we follow today.

And the first eight Presidents are forgotten in history.

YOU HAVE TO BE A LOVER OF HISTORY TO APPRECIATE THIS!!

It took EIGHT years for us to establish a successful government. There you are - another lesson in U.S. history.

More ≠ Better Better = Better

The title of this article is more does not equal better, better equals better! Take a look at the mathematical equationdoes more equal better? $(x + a)^n = \sum_{k=0}^n \binom{n}{k} x^k a^{n-k}$ I think not!
Less is better isn't it? $a^2 + b^2 = c^2$.

How about a cup of coffee? We know Starbucks sure is dependable. We appreciate that Starbucks will deliver us the same drink, every time, anywhere – just exactly the way we want it. Starbucks is convenient, but when we are standing in line for a cup of coffee and the person in front is ordering a Triple, Venti, Half Sweet, Non-Fat, Caramel Macchiato is more really equal to be better?

How about dinner? If more were better, then why aren't the All American Buffet, the Golden Corral, and the Golden Wheel Chinese Buffet rated as 5 star restaurants?

Yet, shame on us that we apologize in the first sentence on page 25 of the Ritual? More ≠ better, better = better! Open your ritual to the last paragraph of page 16. I asked you to read this paragraph. It is shorter than standing in line waiting for someone to order a Triple, Venti, Half Sweet, Non-Fat, Caramel Macchiato.

Now turn to page 41 of the ritual book, lines 4 and 5. Do you think more is better?

Better is better. Which do you prefer the best 3 out of 5 series in the baseball divisional series or the 161 games played during the season? Baseball is finally, just maybe, acknowledging that more games are not better. The best 3 out of 5 series creates a sense of urgency and immediacy ... with the exception of the Tigers.... better baseball.

Better equals better, turn to page 70, the last paragraph, the last sentence. Just that one sentence is short, on point, and should be emphasized continually and not obscured by faux Elizabethan English which somehow has crept into many of our rituals from DeMolay to SEM even though these rituals were written in the 1920's. More ≠ better, better is always better.
